

Dora's Adventure

Dora was going on an adventure with Blue, her pet monkey. Dora picked up her bag pack and off she went, trotting in the fields. Deigo, her best friend, came running behind her. He wanted to accompany them both, to look for the lost parrot from the zoo.

Together, they made their way into a mysterious forest. Long, thick trees and shrubs grew there and the ground was full of rocks, insects and thorns. They held each other tight and began searching for the forest. Dora watched from her binoculars, towards the trees. Diego did the same.

Finally, Blue was successful. "There it is", he said and pointed towards a hole in the trunk of a tree, not very far away. They ran towards it and saw, to their dismay, the parrot was injured very badly.

They picked it up carefully and came back to their home. Soon, officials from the zoo arrived at Dora's home with a vet and took the parrot with them. "We are thankful to you for helping us", they said, "Now we invite you to come over to the zoo next weekend".

"Yaaahoooooo", roared Dora, Diego and Blue.
