Richard and the Baby Bird

Richard is very happy. Every year he spends his summer holidays at grandpa's house. Now it is summer time and he is excited to enjoy his holidays. Grandpa's house is located at the country side away from the main city. Richard has many friends there. He took his red trolley bag from the cupboard and started packing. He thought, "Oh! I forgot to take my favorite T-shirt". The blue T-shirt had the picture of a small baby bird on it. He also packet his grandma's favorite ginger cookies. Next morning Richard's father dropped him to grandpa's house. His grandparents were elated to see him. Grandma was surprised to see the box of cookies.

Richard went to play with his friends. His best friends Ronnie and George were already waiting for him. Jack, Justin, Daniel, Molly, Riana and other friends soon joined them. George said, "Let us all play hide and seek. The children were excited to start with the game. Ronnie found a secret place to hide behind the bushes while Richard decided to hide behind the large oak tree. All of a sudden Richard could hear a chirping sound and started to search from where the sound was.

He stopped on track and was surprised to see a baby bird on the grass that had fallen from its nest. The hatchling's right wing was injured and it could not fly. Richard with his friends meticulously carried the baby bird to his grandma. They all started taking good care of the chick. Soon the baby bird recovered and started to fly. The children and Grandpa helped the bird reach the nest and join its mother. Momma bird and the baby bird were chirping with joy. All the children clapped in glee. Richard went back home with doting memories and promised his friend's to come back for Christmas.
