

A conditional phrase is a condition of something happening. Conditionals talk about both real and unreal situations in the present and future tense.

Underline the conditionals in the following sentences.

1. I will write you a postcard if I can find your address.
2. If I can handle it, I'll try oysters.
3. I want to go if we leave early.
4. If I lived near the coast, I'd go to the beach often.
5. If she won the lottery, she'd buy everyone a new house.
6. I will go jogging if I wake up early.
7. She will cry if she finds out her favorite dress ripped.
8. Wear your helmet if you go bike riding.
9. You should turn the volume down if your Grandfather is still sleeping.
10. If you like that shirt, you should check if they have your size.
