

A sentence is a group of words that expresses a complete thought, asks a question, or issues a command. A sentence usually contains a subject and predicate (verb).

Sentences should tell you both who (or what) did something, and what they did. The sentences are missing a predicate (what the subject did). For each sentence, pick a predicate to complete the sentence.

1. The horse _____ across the fields.
2. We _____ a board game together.
3. The pretend ghost _____ us!
4. We _____ to the music all night.
5. His boat _____ on the lake.
6. He _____ down the court.
7. The car _____ over the hilly terrain.
8. The lion _____ very loudly.
9. My dog _____ all over me.
10. The fish _____ upstream.
