

Figurative Language: Hyperbole

Worksheet 2

Read the following statements. Underline the examples of hyperbole.

1. The ladder stretched all the way to the sky.
2. The man was so tall he could touch the roof of the house.
3. The chair was so soft I sunk down to the floor.
4. The sidewalk was hot enough to catch fire.
5. The moon was so large it took up the whole sky.
6. The book was so heavy I needed a crane to move it off of my desk.
7. The bird was so large it could pick up an elephant.
8. His feet were big enough to fill up a room.
9. She screamed so loud that the neighbors in the next town could hear.
10. The jeans were so stiff they could be used as a board.
11. I am hungry enough to eat a horse.
12. There was enough trash in the room to fill a landfill.
13. The mud was so thick it could be used as concrete.
14. The couch was so old it arrived on the Titanic.
15. The shoes were so tight my toes were busting through.

Write some hyperbole about the following topics:

1. Sun

2. House

3. A nose

Answer Sheet

1. The ladder stretched all the way to the sky.
2. The man was so tall he could touch the roof of the house.
3. The chair was so soft I sunk down to the floor.
4. The sidewalk was hot enough to catch fire.
5. The moon was so large it took up the whole sky.
6. The book was so heavy I needed a crane to move it off of my desk.
7. The bird was so large it could pick up an elephant.
8. His feet were big enough to fill up a room.
9. She screamed so loud that the neighbors in the next town could hear.
10. The jeans were so stiff they could be used as a board.
11. I am hungry enough to eat a horse.
12. There was enough trash in the room to fill a landfill.
13. The mud was so thick it could be used as concrete.
14. The couch was so old it arrived on the Titanic.
15. The shoes were so tight my toes were busting through.

Write some hyperbole about the following topics:

Samples Only

1. Sun

The sun was so hot the grass could catch fire.

2. House

The house was so small you met yourself coming and going.

3. A nose

Her nose was so big it took up her whole face.