

Poetry: Shape Poetry

Worksheet 10

Shape poetry is just as it sounds. It is written in and typically about a shape. It does not have to rhyme but can, but must be written to match the shape you choose.

Read the example below about diamonds.

Notice how the words mimic the shape? Choose two shapes of your own to draw and write about below.

--	--

Answer Sheet (Answers will vary greatly depending on the shape.)

Have students choose the shape and draw it then fill in the words if it is easier.
Using a separate sheet will allow for bigger shapes or more writing.