

Directions: Ari had to write about a time when she felt strong emotions. Help her fill in the missing words to complete the story.

This summer something happened that was so emotional, I will never forget it. I was working with my grandfather on the farm like we had hundreds of times before. We were riding the tractor together to clear the grass from the fields when suddenly my grandfather grabbed his chest and fell off of the tractor. I quickly shut off the tractor and jumped down to see if he was okay. He looked white and it was clear from his misshapen arm that his shoulder was _____ (anesthesia, dislocated, autopsy). I called my dad who was at the house and told him to come fast. Dad told me to call an ambulance and he would be right there.

Dad arrived first and put a sling on my grandfather's arm and a few minutes later, the ambulance arrived. I was so scared. The paramedics took my grandfather to the hospital where we found out he would need a _____ (procedure, anesthesia, defibrillator) to clear his arteries because he was having a heart attack, also called a _____ (cardiac, MRI, despair) event. He was rushed to the _____ (MRI, succumb, cardiology) _____ (tranquilizer, dispensary, ward) where he was given a _____ (contingencies, autopsy, tranquilizer) to calm down.

A couple of hours later, my grandfather was put under _____ (despair, anesthesia, dispensary) so he could have surgery. He came through it wonderfully, though it could have been very different. We got to celebrate instead of feeling _____ (succumb, autopsy, despair) and I am so thankful. I have never been as scared or as relieved as I was that day.
